SWITCH−SWEDEHEART: randomization concerns were noted because of cluster randomization (three clusters), but given no other concerns, its contemporary nature and the sensitivity analysis results (SA8, SA9), the trial was retained in the primary analysis. TC4 also used cluster randomization, but the cluster sequence was random and it was considered at low risk of bias. Tang 2016 and Wang 2019 were excluded for high risk of bias.